"The News"

An inspiration for a real sensation. Emancipation of my soul.
And my fixation is some information on this part's relation to
The whole. My aspiration is pure meditation: self-realization
That's the goal! But nonsense information breaks my concentration, Mundane sound vibration is taking control! Before I want to hear your News, I want the news on me. Been caught up so long in all of Life's hype, I haven't had time to see that beneath the disguise
The real self lies which needs a soul satisfying activity.
No,
I don't want to hear your news. I want the news on me.
Turn down
That noise! Who are we essentially? Beneath the smiles, profiles,
And styles, lies individuality. No more immense pretense, I'll take Down my fence. I want to know the real me. No more acts, I just Want some facts on the soul's real personality. But that news
Confuses, misconstrues, and abuses. It blocks my view from what I Need to see. I want the news on me.
