i recognized this drive inside cause all my life keep me alive to push myself to work and strife to create a better life when all the world just seems unkind when all the world has lost its mind makes me want rise and shine makes me wanna....wanna find true north my core my dream of what life's mean to me and all that i can be so i can feel that i succeeded true north i look inside no one tells me wrong or right all direction in my life so i can satisfy each one of us born cause there a gap to fill we fullfill it....

it's not easy i know it's true discriminating shit verse true group thinking makes fool of me and you but now we can just plow on throught cause we're not a club or scene or shelf but bloomin individual each with need and dream and talents and goals so seat it back and watch it unfold
