Sometimes I find I'm calling out to you
Never knowing why, I'm just not letting go
I wonder if we lost the love too soon
And since the day we said goodbye and walked away
Change, change, some nights are strange
Change, change, pillows of pain
Why did we let it go by

Sometimes I feel so lonely
I need your love to hold me, anyone can see
I would walk the earth for you
You're still the one and only
I know you need to hold me, anyone can see
What you would do for me, what I would do for you
I would walk the earth

It isn't easy falling out of love
Everywhere I go I hear you calling me
I turn around to find I'm still alone
And since the day we said goodbye and walked away
Change, change some nights are strange
Change, change pillows of pain
Why did we let it go by

Sometimes I feel so lonely

I need your love to hold me, anyone can see
I would walk the earth for you
You're still the one and only
I know you need to hold me, anyone can see
What you would do for me, what I would do for you
I would walk the earth

To be with you, making love like yesterday
To be with you, don't let a minute go by Don't let a minute go by
Some loves they just can't die

Sometimes I feel so lonely
I need your love to hold me, anyone can see
I would walk the earth for you
You're still the one and only

I know you need to hold me, anyone can see
What you would do for me, what I would do for you
I would walk the earth
