I can see it drip down from the ceiling
All the loneliness you've been feeling
Collects on your forehead like a dew
And you can wipe it off but not erase
Try to run it down but just chase it
And I'd be feeling sorry for you
If I didn't feel the same way too

We're on the road with the same motivation
Take your chances letting the time run out
But you know that I've been down
Feeling I have go no appreciation
And it's filling me up from under ground
But you know that I've been up to my eyes in doubt

Now the lonely drops are all racing
Leaving parallel lines on your face
And collecting in a pool down by your shoes
But your hands are still free from the tide
And you keep your fingers dry
So when it all starts going better for you
You can write it out like you always do

We're on the road with the same motivation
Take your chances letting the time run out
But you know that I've been down
Feeling I have go no appreciation
And it's filling me up from under ground
But you know that I've been up to my eyes in doubt

You're not alone, not alone, not alone
You're not alone, not alone, not alone
You're not alone...
You're not alone, not alone, not alone
You're not alone, not alone, not alone
You're not alone...

And I can see it drip down from the ceiling
All the loneliness you've been feeling
All the loneliness...

We're on the road with the same motivation
Take your chances letting the time run out
But you know that I've been down
Feeling I have go no appreciation
And it's filling me up from under ground
But you know that I've been up to my eyes in doubt
