the summer sends its love to you..
the same as every year.

across my floor i leave a shadow 25 feet long.
the farther down..the less specific i become.
and so with you..the country miles..overcast our love.
oh mountain range..your hills are hard to overcome.

the summer sends its love to you
the same as every year.
but this year i will send mine too
and wish that you were here.

the central coast is not the same now..
the same without you here.
and late night calls are only daylight souvenirs.

and think of me tonight..
when everyone leaves and you're alone.
i'm counting the days till you come home.

but this year i will send mine too..
