Speak speaking for myself
Pretend im someone else
I never felt the same
Well this time
Breath im breathing up the air
Its burning up my lungs
Its burning through my hair
And i never felt
Hey kids what are you rocking for
Stick a finger through the sky
Im blowing up the sun
The earth is going to die
I might die too
And all the things i love
And all the things i need
I never quite received
And it's still
Hey kids what are you rocking for
I am standing in the rain
Im laughing at myself today
And im breaking from the strain
Im laughing at myself today
And i never need more
Than all of your bodies
Don't you know i never needed more than all of your love
Its only been a game
Palpitation of the heart
I never wanted more
So maybe we could play
Its only been a game
The bleeding of the heart
You let your missiles fire
And we all start to run
