Ash and tears they fall like rain
Black water down your face again
You've felt it for a long long time
We try but there's never enough time
Ash and tears they burn my skin
Like acid down my face again
I've known it for a long long time
We try but there's never enough time

Breathe in breathe out
And it feels so strange
Lights are fading as we fall
Into the ocean

Underwater up for air
I said I'd be there baby
And still we fall to pieces
And still we fall to pieces again
I'm coming back through Montr al
I said I'd be there
And still we fall to pieces
And still we fall to pieces again

Another city another town

Another drink another round
In the morning one more mile
We try but there's never enough time
And every night's another stage
Feel the crowd they radiate
Just one more song, just one more song
Just one more...

Breathe in and breathe out and I feel so strange
Lights are fading as we fall
Into the ocean

Underwater up for air
I said I'd be there baby
And still we fall to pieces
And still we fall to pieces again
I'm coming back through Montr al

I said I'd be there
And still we fall to pieces
And still we fall to pieces again

I'm coming back through Montréal
I said I'd be there
And still we fall to pieces
And still we fall to pieces again
