Don't use a weakness, don't change the subject
Don't ask the questions if you fear the answer
You look distorted, let's make you clearer
Let's flip the switch and use the smoke and mirrors

Reinvent yourself today
Reinvent your world today

Cryin' out for the last time
Clear a space for the warning signs
Cryin' out for the last time
And there's no turning back
Now that you've opened up to your mind

What guides your vision, what holds the balance?
Don't think that I can't see you shake and tremble
Well, I know you're nervous, this world is scary

You have to let go all the madness you carry

Reinvent yourself today
Reinvent your world today

Cryin' out for the last time
Clear a space for the warning signs
Cryin' out for the last time
And there's no turning back
Now that you've opened up to your mind

There is no turning back now
Everything you've ever wanted
Everything in this moment
There is no turning back now

Cryin' out for the last time
Clear a space for the warning signs
Cryin' out for the last time
And there's no turning back
Now that you've opened up to your

Cryin', crying for the last time
Cryin', crying for the last time
