Do you believe in signs
That whisper inside your mind
Till you have to follow through?

Leading you home again
To someplace you've never been
Well, I feel that way for you

How can it be true?
The first time I see you
I look into your eyes

Suddenly I knew you all my life
All my life, all my life
Suddenly I knew you all my life

Don't we have all that time?
Treasure that's yours and mine
And a place that we call home

And don't we have photographs
Taken a long time back
Of the seasons we have known?

I know it's strange to say
When we just met this way
But look into your eyes
Suddenly I knew you all my life

So I'll take the chance and tell you
Before the chance is gone
So atleast I won't be wondering
The rest of my life long

Could you believe in signs
Whisper inside your mind
Till you have to follow through?

Leading you home again
To someplace you've never been
Well, I feel that way for you

How can it be true?
First time I see you
I look into your eyes

Suddenly I knew you all my life
All my life, all my life
Suddenly I knew you all my life

All my life, all my life
All my life
