The boardwalk is loud, let's hide from the crowd
Inside this booth where we pull back the shroud
Time can go fast, our summer has passed
So let's make a picture that maybe will last
We drop our quarter, down came the order

Love made a picture right here in my heart
I can see all those years shining through somehow
I see forever now

They tug at my sleeve, my friends say, don't leave
Why be alone on one more New Year's Eve
The party is fine but I don't get high
I only came here 'cause they said you'd drop by
Soon as you enter, now I remember

Love made a picture right here in my heart
I can see all those years shining through somehow
I see forever now

Some pictures develop slowly

Look what I found, the edges are brown
The picture of us in that old boardwalk town
The wear of the world, the edges have curled
But look at the smile on that boy and that girl
And there in our laughter forever after

Love made a picture right here in my heart
I can see all those years shining through somehow
I see forever now
