From What You Whispered

.....

David Wilcox Tom Prasada-Rao

She couldn't sleep

She fired up the engine

Cause she had no place to go

She likes the window open

She's listening to the road

Just a whisper

Trust me now

I am all you've got

And you know too well

Right where you're not

So she's listening to the whisper of the wheels

A promise held in motion

The only place she feels alright

To burn good fuel and leave the traces in the night

Just a whisper

Trust me now

I am all you've got

And you know too well

Right where you're not

So she's listening to the whisper of the wheels

Just a whisper

Just beyond the headlights

She can almost see it clear

As if there were a gateway

Intersecting here

Just a whisper

Trust me now

I am all you've got

And you know too well

Right where you're not

So she's listening to the whisper of the wheels
