

David Wilcox "When You're Ready"

Visit "When You're Ready" on MotoLyrics.com

You say you get so haunted by these memories
Well of course there must be plenty
That you'd just as soon forget
Here's a chance to wash away your history
We haven't tried this on civilians yet

But you'll have to take that risk
To get this chance at riches
And how much could it be worth
To keep those same bad dreams

Just climb up on the table
Let me throw the switches
It's really a remarkable machine
And the switch is by your head

And when it's done
You won't know how you got here
But you could write yourself a letter
Yes you'll still know how to read

Just draw yourself a map to where you're living
And put a label on each one of your keys
When your friends will try to tease you
You just won't remember

What a fool you were in high school over some old flame
Just climb up on the table, I can quench the ember
The past will never bother you again
And the switch is by your head when you're ready

Truth be told, this big machine does nothing
But there's a change that brings
A difference into all these people's lives

To free them from the past
That was their prison
What gives them passage
Is just the fact that they decide

You see this big machine is harmless

It just scares them shitless
It's louder than a spaceship
And the lights are strange

They climb up on the table and I throw the switches
And it helps them to believe that they can change
Ahh but the switch is by your head when you're ready
When you're ready, when you're ready

Visit David Wilcox page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

MotoLyrics.com | Lyrics, music videos, artist biographies, releases and more.