Chalk one up for the naive in me.
I missed the warning signs
And what I didn't want, I somehow got.
Dictated delivery
Patently osmosis wins again!
Have I lost or am I just losing?
(Would you tell me?)
Cause I just never thought I'd have this war... No
Have I really become that bad?
Tell me, do I at least listen to you?
Or are you as frustrated with me as I'm with him?
I need to know how long has gone on... I took...
I took for granted my frustration
With this failure to hear and now it's crept up on me
With age all that I really understand is flaws.
Oh, they're so comfortable.
I'll shut my mouth
I'll take it off. Right now
I only want to hear you say
That I am just losing, (please lie to me)
And I will say no more.
I want for you to hold me to this (can't stand my voice)
Cause I can't stand the sound
I hope that I am just losing
Cause I can't stand the sound
