The beating of my heart is done
And I've risen from the grave
I'll show the secrets of the dead you never knew
Try and remember what I once was

You can't remember
Life was all a blur
I hear their voices across the midnight haze
Enraptured by all the flesh
Start at the head and then go down south

We're undead
Wishing we were alive
In the wake of this fucking hell

That was our last chance
I'd rather fucking be alive
This is me, after it all
After I died

I hear whispers across the coffins
The cemetery is everyone's end
Never to breath again
Never again, never again

Here we lay
Tombstone ferry down a tunnel of love
I gave you all I had
What do you want from me?

Give me your flesh, your soul
Your love and precious blood
You'll bleed forever onto dawn
Reddening the morning sky
Dine with me in death
We'll never breath again
We'll never be alive
Never again, never fucking again
