There's this feeling deep inside
Something words can not describe

Inside me
Hiding

Just a spark to light the fuse
Tells me what I need to do

Just let me close my eyes
Let me close my eyes

Let go
Live your life
Everything will be alright

Break my heart and fade away
Trust me, I'll live to fight another day

Beautiful shower of stars
Cuts the skin and turns to scars

Bleeding
Believing

This is all I have to give
Take it for all that it is

Just let me close my eyes
Let me close my eyes

Let go
Live your life
Everything will be alright

Break my heart and fade away
Trust me, I'll live to fight another day

Pressure's building up
And burns deeps inside

I'll take it all until it

Burns me alive

When it's too much to take it
I will myself to make it

I can't give in

Drifting gentle
Water pressure
But I'd feel better
If I could just
Breathe
In

No
I won't let go
I will hold on
(I know I won't, I won't let go)
I will stand strong
(I know I won't, I won't let go)

Cuz baby, I'm still standing

(Still standing)
(Still standing)
(Still standing)
(Still standing)

(Still standing)
(Still standing)
(Still standing)
(Still standing)

The sun sets over head
Here comes the night again
This story's just began
And I will be there when it ends
