I hear your voice see your eyes in a child -- it's not you
Only appeared in a dream
Flew away in a rustle of wings when I opened my eyes
Left with a memory...
Your shadow on the wall

And the rain beats on the window pane
Counting the years passing
You never came

Once I was young I believed you would come take me away
Live in a world like a dream
Fly away in the night leaving an' this old world behind
Lost in a memory...
Your shadow on the wall

And the rain beats on the window pane
Counting the years passing
You never came
