"Burning From Inside"

He stands alone and watches
As his destiny pursues
Again night falls and yesterday...
Though not another's fool
He blindly stands in charge of all but
What he fears the most
As silence placed upon him
Brings a story to be closed
He turns and runs for shelter
As he tries to close his eyes

But the piper's to be paid
Because the soul can never lie
A vision of dissention
Resignation of his pride
A vision of intention
Fire burning from inside
Black or white--the wire
Turns the view--must now decide
Spin the wheel--he's fallen
He has risen--he has died
