There were people dancing on the streets
Oh yeah
Just dancing on the streets
(woo woo)
Just dancing on the streets

There were the police, firemen, other people like that Pizza Chef from Who Cares
Some people don't care, some people didn't see but most were dancing on the streets

There were people people dancing on the streets (woo woo boy)
Just dancing on the streets

Just dancing, dodging cars Not caring if they caught SARS or not. Most of them couldn't see the blurry C of a costume made by he

There were people dancing on the streets (Ooo Ooo Boy) People People
Dancing on the streets (Woo Woo) Just People...
People...

I saw Superman, and that dog name blue
I saw Batman too
Robin was in the batmobile that was now strangely teal

(Woo Woo boy) People dancing on the streets
No one cared (Woo Woo) If they saw them People, just people, dancing on the streets

Luckily there were no megaphones
But there was a Bafoon

That Bafoon was a fool
So we dumped him in my neighbor's ice cold Pool

(Woo Woo Boy) Gotta get a living some day
By just dancing on the streets Some people didn't see the costume made by she and he

Oooo...they couldn't see that costume they did do one thing. They consume They consume air, stupid
Some people did a bid

Ya know a Bid, they bidded to see who could die Not die! I said dye their hair and consume more air

(Woo Woo) Dancing on the streets

The real cops came We all put the blame on some guy named Herbert with a Chocolate Sherbert on his head
The Real Cops put us all to bed

The Party was over
And I got a dog named Rover
So it all turned out good in the end

The End (Woo Woo)

[Woo Woo noises fade in the background as the song ends]
