Night had fallen
The sky was clear
Not a whisper
No need to fear
The darkness played
Sweet melodies
The symptoms of
A king's disease
It came upon us
Without a sign
Attempts to warn us
Were not in mind
She stands above us
Her aura glows
We feel the fire
But no one knows

First the thunder
And then the rain
Can't see the storm
But feel the pain
She violates us
Despite our cries
She penetrates us
No compromise
Nowhere to run
Nowhere to hide
Reality
Is what's prescribed
Satisfaction
It's in her eyes
Destiny
Is our demise
