If you held me would you feel me,
Would you trust me, would you fear me?
If you saw me would you cry?
Or would you smile cuz I'm alive?

I see you through my perspective
Your love is my one objective
But you won't see me where I go I'm right here and you won't know

You cry but there's no chance for me to wipe your tears whilst I am on the other side I try but there is nothing I can do as long as I am on the other side
You smile, looking at the picture that we took before we said goodbye
And I died but never left my love surrounds you I'll always be by you

Hear you laughing, watch you smile See you move on for a while Your sorrow returns when it's dark Dive into my hollow arms

A love that's there but you can't feel A broken heart I try to heal Comfort that I can't convey Assures me that I far away

You cry but there's no chance for me
to wipe your tears whilst I am on the other side
I try but there is nothing I can do as long as I am on the other side
You smile, looking at the picture that we took before we
said goodbye
And I died but never left my love surrounds you I'll
always be by you

ooooohh

You cry but there's no chance for me

to wipe your tears whilst I am on the other side
I try but there is nothing I can do as long as I am on the other side
You smile, looking at the picture that we took before we
said goodbye
And I died but never left my love surrounds you I'll
always be by you

You cry but there's no chance for me
to wipe your tears whilst I am on the other side
other side
You smile, looking at the picture that we took before we
said goodbye
And I died but never left my love surrounds you I'll
always be by you
