

Siakol

"The Life In The Red Wagon"

Visit "The Life In The Red Wagon" on MotoLyrics.com

You watch the slow train moving through the city late at night
Adjusting back and forth against the darkness and street lights
I know that you're feeling bad but i'm glad you didn't lie Easy to get caught up...but you know,
You can always you can always You can always walk away the life in the red wagon rolling along the life in the red wagon simple and strong the life in the red...is the red...oh, it's no big deal but when the feet are draggin'
you pull me
and i pull you
you pull me
and i pull for you
Past the teeming marketplace and the blur of faces there Past the silent dockyards and the darkness looming there Maybe it won't work this time but that's the risk you take (and you want to take it)
And just as long as it feels right doesn't matter
Just as long as...doesn't matter Gotta feel good though you don't know why the life is the red wagon rolling along the life is the red wagon keeps the feet upon the ground the life is the red...is the red...oh, it's no big deal
but when the feet are draggin'
you pull me
and i pull for you
you pull me
and i pull for you
the life is the red wagon simple and strong

Visit Siakol page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

