

Sick End Shot "Masks"

Visit "Masks" on MotoLyrics.com

Wearing masks everyone looks the same
But in time you may learn it's all a game
To you we wear the same faces
And we speak the same words
But once you see me for who I am
You'll realize that I am a different man
For my heart may beat every second
But talking to you makes it stop
Halted there I can't breathe or speak
You are great and so beautiful for words
So for now I will say I like you
And you may say it back
But if you believe I am an ordinary man
Then let me rip this mask from my face
Throw down the hellish disguise
Walk up to you and look in your eyes
Connect my lips to yours and fade
We will be great you will just have to wait...

Visit Sick End Shot page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.