Return to reality Avoiding the treachery
Return to reality Witness against the fools of the world
Playing a game so cruel
How long before the lesson is learned
Will it be understood

Witness against the fools of the world
Caught up in their own trap see how they look
So insecure just holding their weakness back

Suddenly stripped of focus in life
Suddenly faced with loss Hitting just like a slap in the face bringin' it down to earth
Channeling this aggression,
Confused how will it manifest keeping the sanity
Without just keeping it all repressed

In the end what presents itself is the truth and the ugliness
Never seen when the eyes are closed or blinded...
The effect of the file world amplified upon return
And so tempted to play the game so malicious...

Witness against the fools of the world playing a game
So cruel how long before the lesson is learned
Will they ignore the words Witness against the fools of the world caught up in their own trap
See how they look so insecure Fakely hard in their own act
