If you could see the movement of my pen across
Letters, addressed, and my hands kept shaking
Just say that you still need me at least for one more night
Cause in this dim lit street, it's hard to get my lip reading right

These goose bumps read like braille
And both of us are blind
To a pulse that beats between your heart and mine

I know we'll never have it better,
We're just one night from
The saddest song
We'll ever learn to love
If you remember to breathe
We'll always be more than a wasted memory

If I told you we could have this one more night We'll paint the town up red and let the world know that we won't let this die
And we'll say that we can't help it
Blame it on being young and reckless I've gotta tell you, I gotta tell you that...

I know we'll never have it better,
We're just one night from
The saddest song
We'll ever learn to love
If you remember to breathe
We'll always be more than a wasted memory

So sing it with me
So let's pretend that we will always remember
The way that we felt when we said

So take a piece of me now
And I'll take a piece of you too
Some way some how
This will last forever

So take a piece of me now

And I'll take a piece of you too
Some way some how
This will last

And I know we'll never have it better,
We're just one night from
The saddest song
We'll ever learn to love
If you remember to breathe

I know we'll never have it better,
We're just one night from
The saddest song
