Callous mind holding tight
With a desperate word.
Spoken light whisper's trite
Pouring over.
Lines of grey count the ways
How the blood will fall.
To the skin now, what's next now?

Will your dark wings spread out around me?
Shadowing the way.
To all the things I've kept inside me
Now I'm giving it all away.

Endless thoughts in distraught
Try to find the way.
From the start worlds apart
Shed the cliché.
Dressed in spite waiting ripe
For the wings to fall upon broken ground.
What's next now?

Will your dark wings spread out around me?
Shadowing the way.
To all the things I've kept inside me
Now I'm giving it all away.

Solaced distress chancing uncertain viewpoints unseen

Will your dark wings spread out around me?
Shadowing the way.
To all the things I've kept inside me
Now I'm giving it all away.

Will your dark wings spread out around me?
Shadowing the way.
To all the things I've kept inside me
Now I'm giving it all away.
