Can't find serenity
With all of these emotions, they're haunting me
The faces tiring
It's the same shit every day with no ending

My patience growing weak
Don't want the world to see this happen to me

Leave this behind
Before saying goodbye

The anger changing me
Another day goes by and I can't break free
Seems like eternity
Before all this is over and I can breath

Leave this behind
Before saying goodbye

And I can't wait to break free from this
Cold dark place that we call our own world

Leave this behind
Before saying goodbye
Leave this behind
Before saying goodbye
