So much to say
When the clock ticks time away
And seconds before I stood hours
Held in a breath
Everything I meant to say
Is still locked inside of me

Without any hesitation
I'd weather out the storms for you
Without any hesitation
I'd walk across the fire for you

No more dismay
Walk beside the tidal waves
I stood at the shore overpowered
With every breath
Everything I couldn't say
Is still locked inside of me

Without any hesitation
I'd weather out the storms for you
Without any hesitation
I'd walk across the fire for you
(I'd walk across the fire for you)

(I'd walk across the fire for you)
I need closure
(Walk across the fire for you)
I need closure

Should the clouds come over you and hide the sun
There's a calm after the storm only when the rain is done
When the clouds come over you and hide the sun
There's a calm after the storm only when the rain is
done

Without any hesitation
I'd weather out the storms for you
Without any hesitation
I'd walk across the fire for you (for you)
I'd walk across the fire for you (for you)

I'd walk across the fire for you
