"Staring Elf"

Blue night over the sky Blue night over me disappeared out the window my hands
hidden under my cheek
I think about my day
today and yesterday

I put on my blue nighties go straight to bed
I caress the soft covers close my eyes
and hide my head under the covers

A little elf stares at me runs towards me but doesn't move from his place - himself a staring elf

I open my eyes
the crusts come off I stretch myself and check returned and everything is ok still there is something missing (like all the walls)
