Adding on to my flaws
More problems for my solutions
A worthless drama
With nothing to dramatize
Made up by myself
Pulling in everybody else
Thought up by myself
To push out all the rest

There's nothing going on in here
Predictabilty and fear
My ignorance and my thoughts
Open for you to hear

My relevance is quite slim
My words are getting quite dim
My control, it is losing out
Unable to let go
Slowly going with the flow
It's pulls me back in
Now I'm part of the show
I'm a critical hypocrite

There's nothing going on in here
Predictabilty and fear
My ignorance and my thoughts
Open for you to hear

It wont go away
This pain is unbearable and wont fade away
But you
You push me, far away.
