You crossed the line
You're running in circles
Now you lost your self control

You medicate
So you can fall asleep
Your mind just won't shut down

I wonder where you are
I wonder if you found your other self
Or are you still somebody else?

There's so much bottled up inside
And if it's shaken up it's going to explode
You can't stop it, you just can't stop it

You say you're done
You swear you gave it up
Running in circles, you don't even care
That you're going nowhere
You hate yourself

I still wonder where you are
I wonder if the fork's still in your side
Did you pull it out in time?

And now it starts to overflow
And spill its guts and ruin someones soul
And you can't stop it, you just can't stop it

You say you're done
You swear you gave it up
Running in circles, you don't even care
That you're going nowhere
You hate yourself

You crossed the line
You're running in circles
Now you lost your self control

You medicate
So you can fall asleep

Your mind just won't shut down
Let's go

You were my disaster
I can't stop chasing after
You were my disaster
I can't stop chasing after

You were my disaster
I can't stop chasing after
You were my disaster
I can't stop chasing after

You crossed the line
You're running in circles
Now you lost your self control

You say you're done
You swear you gave it up
Running in circles, you don't even care
That you're going nowhere
You hate yourself

You're my disaster
I can't stop chasing you
You're my disaster
Well, I can't stop chasing you
