"The Weak And The Wounded"

The end begins
I can't escape as it pulls me further into anesthesia Tear down my sense of conviction
Corrupt my soul
The end begins
In my eyes
In my heart
I have laid upon a deadman's bed
Only to fall into a trap of lies and seduction that rivals
the greatest sense of love
Play it back until the voice becomes just a sound Penetrate my mind with all these images of you i have given up an angel's kiss
Only to break apart your path of trust and burn myself down
Struggle to the end
I scare myself
I'd give it all to have it back
I could have had it all in front of you all by myself
Love in my eyes
Lust in my heart
I made it all up
Lies
Deceit
empowers me
So it ends
