"When Broken Is Easily Fixed"

I can resist everything except temptation
My body breaks
But i am still intact inside
My human instinct
I can love unconditionally
Cross my heart and lie to you
(My conscience plagues at me
Fills me with despair)
Failure within me
Promise you and let you down
(Emotion conquers my soul
Robs me of myself)
Brings me to my knees
Follow me
Lead you astray
(Nourish myself with fear
Give me the pain to fall)
Loathe myself to sleep
Your words kill me
You can breathe without oxygen and live without sorrow
How I envy you
Though pity your ghost
Ignorance is bliss I wish I could never love you
So ironic that that a heart made by man
When broken is easily fixed
But a human hurt can last a lifetime
Rust or decay
The fire or the flame
You and I will lead the path to change
Pave the way
