I caught you tripping out the back door
Head sore with nothing to say to say
Where you going, what you running from today?

In the wrong at just the right time
What's got you in its sway, its sway
Ooh, brother there's a price in every life to pay

Behind the lies in every scene
The picture's soaked in gasoline
We found the way and honestly
We are no one, we are no one
We are no one

I caught you slipping on the wet floor
Reaching for something, too late, too late
Get your grip before the levy breaks away

Behind the lies in every scene
The picture's soaked in gasoline
We found the way and honestly
We are no one

Behind the lies in every scene
The picture's soaked in gasoline
We found the way and honestly
We are no one, we are no one
We are no one

What's wrong? What's right?
Who's side? Who's fight?
Who's song? Who's light?
Where you going, what you running from tonight?

We are no one, we are no one
We are no one, we are no one

Behind the lies in every scene
The picture's soaked in gasoline
We found the way and honestly
We are no one

Behind the lies in every scene
The picture's soaked in gasoline
We found the way and honestly
We are no one, we are no one
We are no one, we are, we are
We are no one, we are no one
