Shh, be quiet now, be still, my darling
I can see you lying there in your bed
Even know you're only in my head

I'm so far away, I'm so far away, I'm so far away
I'm so far away, I'm so far away, I'm so far away

If you could see what I can see
And if you could hear me now, baby
And I can tell you, this paradise is lost
Flowers blossom in stone
In this place I am, I'm livin' lost

I'm so far away, I'm so far away, I'm so far away

And what I think I'm trying to say is, "I can't help thinking about you
And I can't help thinking about every one in you
And I can't help thinking about you
And I can't help thinking about every one in you"

Do you remember old times, my friend?
Who knows good old times?
You seem so distant now from these days of mine
I can see you clearly now, joking and drinking wine
Even know it's only in my mind

And if you could see me now
And if you could hear me now, my friend
And I can tell you this, your paradise is lost
Flowers blossom in stone
And as soon as I can, I can I'll be coming home

I'm so far away, I'm so far away, I'm so far away

And what I guess I'm trying to say is, "I can't help
thinking about you
And I can't help thinking about every one in you
I can't help thinking about you
And I can't help thinking about every one in you"

I wonder what you're doing now

And whatever you're doing now
I hope you're alright
Do you remember that night?

That night seems so far away, so far away, so far away

And I could see what I can see
And it's only me that can hear me
And I'm the only one in those paradises lost
As flowers blossoms in stone

I wish I was back home, I wish I was back home
