We follow the river down into the stream that's where my dream began i left my worries to the people who stare and dream without a care that i'd always be beside you to watch the day and night

and we'd listen to the sunrise and feel its growing light and peace will come inside so quiet

whereever we're goin' i dont know for million years our love keeps growin' the mystery deepens day by day but trust my love and hear me say that i'll always be beside you to watch the day and

guess i'll always be beside you to watch the day and
and we'd listen to the sunrise and feel its growin' light

yes peace will come inside
so quiet
