Watching love drifting away
And I feel like I'm someone else
The hurting is rough, long are the days
And you have hurt me enough

You're scared to be loved, you know that's your way
And your youth hasn't made you too tough
You're hurting for love in so many ways
The truth has hurt you enough

I read a book and it's your face
It's your face now
But fake, hey, hey
Still my love for you was no mistake
I will always love you
But fake, hey

Hoping for love, day after day
And it's always someone else
The hurting is rough, long are the days
And you have hurt me enough

You're burning your hair
On your cigarette, oo baby
Turning your nose up
At the clothes your girlfriend wears
I don't care

I read a book and it's your face
It's your face now
But fake, hey, hey
Still my love for you was no mistake
And I will always love you
But fake, hey

I read a book and it's your face
Reading you baby
But fake, hey, hey
Still my love for you was no mistake
'Coz I will always love you
But fake

Always, always, always
I will love you

You're burning your hair
On your cigarette, oo baby
Turning your nose up
At the clothes your girlfriend wears
I don't care

I read a book and it's your face
It's of no use baby
But fake, hey, hey
But still my love for you was no mistake
'Coz I will always love you
But fake, hey

You, always, always, always
I will love you, baby

I read a book and it's your face
I can feel it, you're right now
I can feel you right now
I read a book and it's your face
I will always love, I will love, love you
I read a book
