Are you the best or the equal of every man on this earth
I introspect I can have anything that I could want Yet I need for nothing oh nothing

'cos the spirit of life is within you Breathing with ease through the whole of you And deeper inside is within you searching until we find a way
To jump out now jumping around now
Cause sooner or later we'll be gone

What will be left is the benefit of all we've learnt before
And what's the test it's the dignity of every man
You will need for nothing oh nothing
You will need for nothing oh nothing
