You and i were born alone
and i hated you from the start but now, you changed into something else
I don't want to forget, because i believe in love...

I was born alone...
I was someone dark and far away.
from you... and now i can see your eyes... that you look into mine and we both see the same

You ran into my defeated heart and i could see your burning flame
i ran into your lost soul and i never thought i would feel like this.
(JAPANESE LYRICS)

You was born alone...
and you tried to kill my heart once more but you looked deep into my eyes and you know that i felt like i loved you

You came and left then cheated, everything changed into something unnatural.
You was far away, so far away and i thought 'bout this everyday.

(JAPANESE LYRICS)

now i know, there's nothing left why i should forgive you.
I can see the truth which you are giving to me.
and i don't know why your name keeps on repeating again
in my heart, in my mind, in the deepest part of my body.
(JAPANESE LYRICS)
and i know that i'm free now.

You and i were born alone
but there is a little difference and now, you changed into something else i will never forget, because you was part of my life.
