You were always too much in my face
I was always on your mind
We're clearly undefined, we're undefined

Who will dare to put us in our place
Divide the human race
To a lot of empty nets below the sea

We belong to no one that I know
We cannot fit inside a broken melody
And so we go to find a soothing lullaby
Where heavy burdens fly and float away

And you cannot be fair, you're not a child
There is no fairness in your eyes
And if I thought you'd give me half a chance
I'd be the last to let you go into that pitiful disguise

To see me in the day is such a lie
I can never be without you on my side
And then you'll tell me that there are no sides
That's just for barricaded minds, I will find this out when I die

And you cannot be fair, you're not a child
There is no fairness in your eyes
And if I thought you'd give me half a chance
I'd be the last to let you go into that pitiful disguise

And you were always too much in my face
I was always on your mind
We're clearly undefined, we're undefined

And you can labor on the ground
Where nothing will survive
Until your greatness blows your mind

And you cannot be fair, you're not a child
There is no fairness in your eyes
And if I thought you'd give me half a chance
I'd be the last to let you go into that pitiful disguise

And you were always too much in my face
I was always on your mind
We're clearly undefined
