her majesty was so fine
he almost thought that she was real but she's divine
he thought she was caught up in a web but she's the tangle
and as she went flying through the air he caught on by her ankle her attitude is all right she's mainly on the up

but she tends to lie
he thought she was swimming against the tide
and as she went butterflying down she led on to strangle

and he went diving diving down diving down diving down
just to be deeper
and he only took her money
'cause he thought that he could never really keep her this century will fall down we always thought it was a queen but it's just a crown we thought she was caught up in a web

as she went flying through the air he fell off at an angle the legacy was burning bright she's living in a dream but she's all right he thought she was dying of a scream but she's the screamer and when she passed him on the end she smiled and he believed her

her attitude was all right
she led him on to strangle
