step outside, close the door, i guess i'll see you later on, even though i'll be gone, this is where i still belong, can you tell by my demeanour i'm away, i can't wait and the only bus is way past late it's not you, don't you see, if i don't leave now i'll seal my fate cos we all want something greener there must be something greener... all i wanted was to let it all out let my hair down take a good look and see all i wanted was to show how i felt go a little mental, baby that's no big deal small town, big dreams ...that's just me i don't know, i don't care, if my curtains match my underwear got the taste, i want more, it's the big bad world i'm starving for if it's tough, then i'll be meaner i can't breath it's like i'm half dead i'm an ordinary weirdo in my head, not a freak just a little lost and incomplete can you tell by my demeanour, gotta find that girl have you seen her?
so i gotta find out for myself even if it is my living hell i gotta learn by my mistakes and prove that i wasn't crazy for believing that i might have what it takes
