Should I've been careful when I took you away with my starry eyes
And I believe in everything that I dream my head's full of lies
Could this be leading to disaster
Now I'm not my only master
Now I'm not my only master
And all we've got now is a lesser kind of love
All we've got now is a lesser kind of love

I didn't think that we come so far to start so soon
And can't you see how fragile feelings are when you're breaking the rules

They really missed each other somehow
They couldn't know that this was so rare
They couldn't know that this was so rare
And all that's left now is a lesser kind of love
All that's left now is a lesser kind of love

A kind of love
A kind of love
It's a a kind of love
It's a better kind of love it's a
A kind of love
A kind of love
It's a a kind of love
It's a better kind of love

Can we forget the things that we said last night and start anew
Things will be clearer in the broad daylight
We spoke too soon

If we could try it again
Begin at the end
Take it so slowly
And I will let you get to know me
And I will let you get to know me

And then we might find a better kind of love
And then we might find a better kind of love

And then we might find a better kind of love
Then we might find a better kind of love
