

Sinith Hall

"New World"

Visit "New World" on MotoLyrics.com

fall down from the sky a shot in the dark like a breeze in the night what is left now must die cutting the wings stripped from your flight

the dove will rise once again to choose a brave new world or a beautiful new sin

the sky has turned a dark hue all colors astray
a hospital blue flashing lights coming through new prophecies have finally come true trust in my gift to you shut your eyes in this house we stand alone

the dove will rise once again
to choose a brave new world
or a beautiful new sin
now it's been lost it once again the picture falls in line swept away by the wind

Visit Sinith Hall page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.