

Sirima "Kym"

Visit "Kym" on MotoLyrics.com

I will hold your tiny hand
If and when you call for me
I will teach you to count from one to ten
Alphabet from A to Z
I will go where your eyes go to explain each thing you see
I will hold you tenderly you are my responsibility

I will be there at your command
Never too far from your side
Cross my heart try to understand
All those secrets that you're keeping inside
I will heed each word you say, each sound your voice makes clear
I will hold you tenderly to erase your every fear

Together we will shine through life
You will be my light tonight
Together we will shine through life
I will be your sun, you moon, together we will shine

I will break, break every chain that imprisons your young dream
Mother, child, baby Kym and I
Will form the ideal team
I will go where your eyes go to explain each thing you
see
I will hold you tenderly you are my responsibility

Together we will shine through life
You will be my light tonight
Together we will shine through life
I will be your sun, you moon, together we will shine

(Solo brass)

Together we will shine through life
You will be my light tonight
Together we will shine through life
I will be your sun, you moon, together we will shine.

Visit Sirima page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

