I was sitting in a barroom when
The door knocked open and who walked in
Oh, baby, I see you're back in town
You've been gone, baby for a long time, baby
But now I see you are back around
I heard that you were getting straight
Oh babe, and you were looking great
But now you're with the same old crowd again
Don't you know what those "friends" will do
They will end up killing you

Oh, baby I see you going down
You don't know me, like I know you
Oh, oh baby, you're going down
Don't you know what your friends will do
They will end up killing you
Oh baby, you're going down
Don't you think I had a hard time, too
Oh baby, over losing you
But now I'm back on my feet again
You don't know me, like I know you
Oh, oh baby, you're going down
