I've been working, been working overtime
To find who I want to be You got something, can't put my finger on it
That makes my mind feel free

I never thought I'd make it through the summertime I've never seen so much rain
There you are and the storm it's rolling away

I'm not gonna run, gonna look away, gonna let it out What's done is done, there's a better day coming around
It's taking some time to believe that there's something left of me
Maybe you could help me, I was thinking you could stay awhile

There's a rumble deep in my heart
And it feels like a hurricane You're standing there with your yellow sun dress on Taking the clouds away

What a feeling buried inside me
Been such a long, long time Now I know I couldn't turn back if I tried

I'm not gonna run, gonna look away, gonna let it out
What's done is done, there's a better day coming
It's taking some time to believe that there's something
Maybe you could help me, I was thinking you would stay awhile

It's been years now, we're still together Since that day you stayed awhile
And it's amazing, you still amaze me That day has changed my life

We're not gonna run, not gonna look away, gonna let it out What's done is done, those better days keep coming

It's taken some time to believe but you knew what was best for me Baby, how you helped me, I'm so glad that you stayed
awhile
awhile
