I am worried about my apathy
And all that comes with not caring at all
It is a job without benefits
Too bad for you

You are too worried about what's to come
All the things you couldn't do and blew
Too bad for you

I'm fat, lazy and pathetic
At least I know I'm happy
At least I have my sanity
Too bad for you

Rolling your eyes it doesn't show you care
It shows your maturity hasn't reached its peak

My apathy is not a threat to you
Not knowing what I want to do
Makes me feel like I don't have
S&*(to do
What a nice feeling
Without Benefits
