Finally things are getting clear for me
I can see we were never meant to be.

I can't deny the feeling, the feeling comin' on
The love we had between us seems to be gone.

I'm confused, tthere's a million thoughts in me
It can't be true, oh I've known you for so long.

I know that I still need you, but in a different way
The love we had between us faded away.

Facing the truth, took me so long to find out
Facing the truth, must have been blind, I could not see
What about you? You know somehow I think that
You feel the same.
Facing the truth isn't easy to do with a woman like you.

And now I feel there's shadow 'cross my heart
Can't you see? Oh it's tearing me apart.

I thought we had things going, I believed in every way
But now I realise love's gone astay.
