"A Walk on the Razors"

Careful where you're headed
They just might be waiting armed and intended
Looking for another one to Drag down to the bottom back with them
And if you hear the sound of Crashing like the walls fell around you
You better run for your life
They're the ones out there with the ropes and kitchen knives

A walk on the razors
Disguised with an alias
You just can't live your life when you
Can't let anyone know who you are
Your voice of reason
Is the devil's to them

When you live with the idiots
Who kill those who don't bow to their idols
You're harassed hopeless
Home is burnt to the ground in the name of the lord
Gather around the fire
They burn what does not follow them with desire
You have to run when you're sane
They don't think with their brain

A walk on the razors
Disguised with an alias
You just can't live your life when you
Can't let anyone know who you are
Your voice of reason
Is the devil's to them

Run for freedom (x8)
