Everything happens at the same time each day It always seems to stay the same Nothing ever changes, nothing re-arranges It always seems to remain

Must it stay the same?

MotoLyrics

Plastic existance It's always the same Faketown Fake place Never will it change

The storybook is getting too old anyway We rewrite it by ripping out the pages Time to make a change, time to re-arrange No more mindless repetition remains

The storybook will change...

Plastic existance It's always the same Faketown fake place Never will it change Plastic existance Everyday is the same Am I going insane? Never will it change

Everything happens at the same time each day It always seems to stay the same Nothing ever changes, nothing re-arranges It always seems to remain

Plastic existance Everyday is the same Am I going insane? Never will it change
